PREFACE

In compiling this bibliography, I have attempted to project the special characteristics of the Negro population in relation to both American and African affairs. All book documentary, and pamphlet resources of the Essex County College Library have been listed to give the user the most up-to-date information. Periodical literature has been omitted because the Library houses many journals dealing with the subject and their contents can be easily located through the standard indexes.

I would like to thank certain individuals who have helped in the compilation and typing of this bibliography. They include William Koenig, Laura D. Bell, and many student assistants.

William Mulzenga
Circulation Librarian

I N T R O D U C T I O N

"Black Studies", in their initial conception, is more than a study of Black people; it is essentially a study of all aspects of life and knowledge from a Black perspective. Emphasis is certainly laid on information about Black people; but the Black Experience has not been lived in isolation. For that reason, it is important that Black Studies, or more accurately the Black perspective, saturate all the various disciplines and programs of Essex County College. It is equally important that "Black Studies" keep before the students the fact that the entire Black Experience stretches beyond the shores of the United States, back to Africa, and includes the entire African diaspora.

Supervisor of Black Studies
